The station was built in 1961, and it is located on the Circle Line, one of the busiest lines in the system. The station is decorated in a classic Soviet style, with marble walls and vaulted ceilings. The walls are adorned with bronze sculptures of Dostoevsky's characters, including Raskolnikov from Crime and Punishment and Alyosha Karamazov from The Brothers Karamazov.

Metro Stop Dostoevsky is a popular tourist destination, and it is also a convenient way to get around the city. The station is located near the Dostoevsky Museum, which is dedicated to the life and work of the writer. The museum is a great place to learn about Dostoevsky's life and work, and it also has a collection of his personal belongings.

In addition to the Dostoevsky Museum, there are a number of other attractions located near Metro Stop Dostoevsky. These include the Moscow Zoo, the Tretyakov Gallery, and the Red Square. The Moscow Zoo is home to over 5,000 animals from all over the world, and it is a great place to spend a day with the family. The Tretyakov Gallery is one of the most important art museums in Russia, and it has a collection of over 100,000 works of art. The Red Square is one of the most iconic landmarks in Moscow, and it is home to the Kremlin, the State Historical Museum, and the Lenin Mausoleum.
