Here are a few tips for traveling smart and leaving the crowds behind:

- Do your research. Before you book your trip, take some time to research your destination. Look for places that are off the beaten path and less popular with tourists.
- Travel during the off-season. If you can, try to travel during the shoulder season or off-season. This is when there are fewer tourists and you'll be able to enjoy your destination without the crowds.
- Get off the beaten path. Once you're at your destination, don't just stick to the main tourist attractions. Explore the side streets and back roads. You're sure to find some hidden gems that most tourists miss.

- Talk to the locals. The locals are a great source of information about their town or city. Ask them about their favorite places to eat, drink, and shop. They may also be able to tell you about some hidden gems that aren't listed in any guidebook.
- Be flexible. Things don't always go according to plan when you're traveling. Be prepared to change your itinerary if necessary. If you're flexible, you'll be more likely to find some amazing places that you never would have expected.

Here are a few of our favorite off-the-beaten-path destinations:

- Bhutan. This tiny Himalayan kingdom is known for its stunning scenery, ancient monasteries, and friendly people. It's a great place to go trekking or hiking, and you're sure to find some peace and quiet along the way.
- The Faroe Islands. These remote islands are located in the North Atlantic Ocean, about halfway between Norway and Iceland. They're home to dramatic cliffs, waterfalls, and puffins. The Faroe Islands are a great place to go hiking, birdwatching, or simply relax and enjoy the scenery.
- The Atacama Desert. This vast desert in northern Chile is one of the driest places on Earth. It's home to some of the most surreal and beautiful landscapes you'll ever see. The Atacama Desert is a great place to go stargazing, hiking, or biking.
- The Amazon Rainforest. The Amazon Rainforest is the largest rainforest in the world, and it's home to an incredible diversity of plants and animals. There are many ways to explore the Amazon Rainforest, including hiking, canoeing, and kayaking. You're sure to have an unforgettable experience in this incredible place.

- Antarctica. Antarctica is the coldest, driest, and highest continent on Earth. It's home to penguins, seals, whales, and other amazing wildlife. Antarctica is a great place to go on a cruise or expedition. You're sure to be amazed by the beauty and wonder of this incredible continent.

These are just a few of the many amazing places you can visit if you're willing to leave the crowds behind. So what are you waiting for? Start planning your next adventure today!
